Contents

List of Abbreviations ix
Foreword xi
Acknowledgements xiii

Chapter 1: The Presence of the Future: The Present for the Future 1
1.1 The Tension Between the Present and the Future: Justification Now, Judgment Later? 2
1.2 Imagining the Past, the Present and the Future as One Reality 5
1.3 Scope, Limitation and Structure of the Book 7

Chapter 2: The Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds": An Overview 9
2.1 The Old Testament's Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds" 10
2.2 The New Testament's Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds" 12
2.3 The Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds" in the Early Church 15
2.4 Problems Regarding the Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds" 18
Conclusion 22

Chapter 3: Eschatological Concept of the Early Mizo Christians 25
3.1 Pre-Christian Mizo Eschatological Concept 26
3.2 Early Mizo Christian Understanding of Eschatology: The First Decade 30
3.3 Impacts of Revival Movements on the Mizo Eschatological Imagination 40
Conclusion 53

Chapter 4: Eschatology in the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church of India 55
4.1 Historical Development of the Presbyterian Church of India 55
4.2 Factors Influencing the Formulation of the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church of India 63
4.3 Confession of Faith of the PCI and the Question of Originality 66
4.4 Main Theme/Motif of Article X of the PCI Confession of Faith 72
4.5 Justification Now – Resurrection and Judgment Later? An Important Existential Question 78
Conclusion 86

Chapter 5: General Appraisal of Article X of the Presbyterian Church of India's Confession of Faith 87
5.1 Apocalyptic Millennialist's Concept of "Judgment" in Mizoram 88
5.2 Doctrinal Affirmation in the Midst of Ambiguity: An Urgent Theological Task 93
5.3 Interpreting and Reaffirming the Concept of "Judgment According to the Deeds" 101
5.4 Challenges of the PCI Confession of Faith Article X for Contemporary Mizo Christian Spirituality 107
General Conclusion 113

Appendix 117
Bibliography 127