

Contents

Foreword	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Preface	xiii
Chapter 1: Introduction	1
1.1. Introduction	1
1.2. The Research Problem	2
1.3. Significance of the Research	2
1.4. The Colonial Background and Issues of Hindu-Christian Encounter	3
1.4.1. Missionary Attitude and Attack of Hinduism	5
1.4.2. Alliance between Christianity and Colonialism	8
1.4.3. Western Challenge and Reactionary Response	10
1.4.4. Objections to Christian Superiority and Doctrinal Claims	12
1.4.5. Objections to Conversion and Denationalization	13
1.5. Chapterisation	15
Chapter 2: The Making of Swami Vivekananda and Mahatma Gandhi	17
2.1. Introduction	17
2.2. The Making of Swami Vivekananda	17
2.2.1. Influence of Family	18
2.2.2. Impact of Renascent Context of Bengal	19
2.2.3. Influence of Hinduism	19
2.2.4. English Education - College and Western Philosophy	20
2.2.5. Influence of Buddha and Buddhism	21
2.2.6. Impact of Christ and Christianity	22
2.2.7. Influence of Brahma Samaj	23
2.2.8. Quest for God and Meeting of Sri Ramakrishna	23
2.2.9. As a Wandering Monk	25
2.2.10. Role of Chicago and Parliament of Religions	26

2.2.11. Journey and Mission to the ‘West’	26
2.2.12. Founding of Ramakrishna Mission – Organizing Hinduism in a ‘New’ Perspective	27
2.3. The Making of Mahatma Gandhi	29
2.3.1. Influence of Heredity and Family	29
2.3.2. Jainism	30
2.3.3. Christian Contacts and Christianity	31
2.3.4. Influence of Raychandbhai	35
2.3.5. Influence of Christ, Bible and Sermon on the Mount	36
2.3.6. Vegetarianism	37
2.3.7. Theosophy	38
2.3.8. Hinduism	38
2.3.9. Influence of Bhagavadgītā	40
2.3.10. Buddhism	41
2.3.11. Islam	41
2.3.12. Influence of Modern Thinkers	41
2.3.12.1. Ruskin	42
2.3.12.2. Thoreau	43
2.3.12.3. Tolstoy	44
2.4. Conclusion	45
Chapter 3: The Pre-dominance of Indian Tradition and Advaita Vedānta in the Writings of Swami Vivekananda and Mahatma Gandhi	47
3.1. Introduction	47
3.2. Swami Vivekananda and Indian Tradition	47
3.3. Mahatma Gandhi and Indian Tradition	56
3.4. Swami Vivekananda and Advaita	62
3.5. Mahatma Gandhi and Advaita	67
3.6. Conclusion	71
Chapter 4: Vivekananda’s and Gandhi’s View of Christian Tradition, Religions and Christ from Advaita Vedāntic Perspective	73
4.1. Introduction	73
4.2. Swami Vivekananda and Christian Tradition	73
4.3. Mahatma Gandhi and Christian Tradition	83
4.4. Swami Vivekananda and Religion	93
4.5. Mahatma Gandhi and Religion	97
4.6. Swami Vivekananda and Christ	100
4.7. Mahatma Gandhi and Christ	108
4.8. Conclusion	116

Chapter 5: Christ – Experience of Vivekananda and Gandhi as Metaphysical and Ethical	121
5.1. Introduction	121
5.2. Differences between Western Christian Epistemology and Indian Advaitic Epistemology	121
5.3. Metaphysical Dimension of Christ-Experience	125
5.4. Ethical Dimension of Christ-Experience	131
5.5. Conclusion	134
Chapter 6: Critical Analysis and Observations	137
6.1. Introduction	137
6.2. Issues of Comparative Approach	138
6.3. Comparative Approach of Vivekananda – A Critical Analysis	138
6.3.1. Self-contradiction	139
6.3.2. Reductionism	140
6.3.3. Offending the ‘Other’	140
6.3.4. Selective of the ‘Other’	141
6.3.5. Avoidance of the Community of Faith and Placing of the Individual Views above the Community	141
6.3.6. Neglecting the Serious Differences between Religions	141
6.3.7. Quoting the Text by Ignoring its ‘Original’ Context	142
6.3.8. Against Historical Facts	142
6.4. Comparative Approach of Gandhi – A Critical Analysis	143
6.4.1. Avoidance of the Community of Faith and Placing the Individual Views above the Community	143
6.4.2. Selective Approach	144
6.4.3. Avoidance of the Background of the Scriptural Text	144
6.4.4. Reductionism	145
6.4.5. Offending the ‘Other’	145
6.5. Towards Mutual Understanding and Mutual Correction	145
6.6. Dialogical Process for a Harmonious Multi-religious Context of India	148
6.7. Conclusion	151
Chapter 7: Conclusion	153
Bibliography	157