CONTENTS

Editor's Introduction xi

PART ONE: THE BEGINNING 1

Chapter 1: What and Why 3
- a. A forlorn hope? 3
- b. And yet... 4
- c. Metaphysics is inevitable 7
- d. Towards a definition of metaphysics 8
- e. Approaches to beings and Being 11

Chapter 2: How? 13
- a. The starting-point 13
- b. The DIRECT JUDGEMENT as starting point 15
- c. Our methodology: transcendental analysis 16
- d. Preliminary discovery: direct judgement is a movement 17
- e. Does all knowledge aim at a common ultimate goal? 18
- f. The common ultimate goal of all my knowledge is the UNLIMTED BEING 18
- g. But is this UNLIMTED EXISTENCE real? 19
- h. Heidegger‘s purpose achieved! 21
- i. Quite a mixed bag! 22

Conclusion 24

PART TWO: ON BEINGS 25

Chapter 3: The Analogy of Being 27
- a. The Transition 27
- b. No mere academic issues 28
- c. Terminology 28
- d. Towards a definition of being 30
- e. The activity of direct judgement implies the analogy of being 33
- f. A short historical note on the notion of analogy 33

Chapter 4: Transcendentals 35

a. The issue 35
b. Why "transcendentals"? 36
c. Relevance of this quest 36
d. Our method 37
e. The discovery of the transcendentals 37

Chapter 5: Change 51

a. The phenomenon 51
b. An illusion? 52
c. Parmenides' problem 52
d. Aristotle's answer 53
e. Change is not substitution 54
f. Thomistic metaphysics 54
Conclusions 57

Chapter 6: Relations 61

a. The question 61
b. The phenomenon 62
c. Critical reflection 62
Conclusions 64
d. Towards a "Metaphysics of Love" 66

Chapter 7: The Person 69

a. The Issue(s) 69
b. "Supposites" and "principles of being" 70
c. Aggregates 71
d. The PERSON 72
e. Persons as "ends in themselves" 74
f. Societies 75
g. Human rights 77
h. God as personal 78
i. Historical development of "person" 79

Chapter 8: Causality 81

a. The fundamental issues 81
b. The contemporary scene 81
c. General definition of cause 83
d. Varieties of FINAL causes 84
e. Varieties of EFFICIENT causes 85
f. Conditions, Occasions and Qualifying Circumstances 88

PART THREE: ON BE-ING OF BEINGS 89

Chapter 9: Be-ing (Existence) 91

a. Heidegger and Maréchal 91
b. God, the unlimited existence 92
c. The Be-ing of beings is personal 93
d. Be-ing is bliss 94
e. Responding to Be-ing 95

Editor's Conclusion 97
a. Encounter Between Metaphysics and Science/Religion 97
b. Moving Beyond Kant 99
c. Search for a Theory of Everything 100
d. Finally … 101

Appendix 103
I. An Indian Approach to Metaphysics 103
a. An Indian approach 103
b. Primacy of Being over Non-Being 104
c. The method 106
d. The convergence 107
II. Some Questions for Reflection 110

Select Bibliography 113

Glossary 115