

Contents

Foreword	xiii
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction	xix
Chapter I: Lesslie Newbigin – Man & His Thought World	1
Introduction	1
1.1. Historical-Biographical Section	1
1.1.1. Newbigin – the Believer	1
1.1.2. Newbigin in India	4
1.1.3. Newbigin – the Ecumenical Giant	6
1.1.4. Newbigin – the Apologist (1974-1998)	8
1.2. Philosophical-Theological Influences	10
1.2.1. Karl Barth (1886-1968)	11
1.2.2. Michael Polanyi (1891-1976)	15
1.3. Major Publications	17
Concluding Remarks	18
Chapter II: Lesslie Newbigin’s Understanding of “The Gospel as Public Truth”	19
Introduction	19
2.1. Terminological Considerations and Its Significance in the Christian Theology	19
2.1.1. Gospel	19

2.1.1.1. Biblical Understanding of the “Gospel”	20
2.1.1.1.1. Old Testament	20
2.1.1.1.2. New Testament	20
2.1.1.2. Theological Reflection	21
2.1.2. Public Truth	22
2.1.2.1. Theological Understanding	23
2.2. Lesslie Newbigin’s Understanding of “The Gospel as Public Truth”	25
2.2.1. Enlightenment-Modernity as the Root Cause of Privatization of the Gospel Truth	25
2.2.2. “The Gospel as Public Truth”	28
2.2.3. Newbigin’s Christology – The Gospel Truth	30
2.2.3.1. Christology	30
2.2.3.2. Jesus of History (Nazareth) and Christ of Faith	32
2.2.3.3. Facts of Jesus	34
2.2.3.4. Jesus Christ, the Divine and the Human	35
2.2.3.5. Death of Jesus Christ	37
2.2.3.5.1. The Reality of Death	37
2.2.3.5.2. The Significance of the Cross	39
2.2.3.6. Resurrection of Jesus Christ – A New Starting Point	40
2.2.3.7. Jesus - the Present Reality	45
2.2.3.8. Authority of Jesus	45
2.2.4. Truth to Tell	46
2.2.4.1. Believing and Knowing the Truth	47
2.2.4.2. Affirming the Truth in the Church	50
2.2.4.3. Speaking the Truth to Caesar	54
Concluding Remarks	58
Chapter III: “The Gospel as Public Truth”: A Continuing Debate in the Religiously Plural Context of India	61
Introduction	61
3.1. India: the Land of Religions	61
3.2. Pluralism – A New Paradigm?	63

3.2.1. Pluralism Defined	65
3.2.2. Responses to Pluralism	66
3.2.2.1. Exclusivism: Jesus Christ as the Only Way to Salvation	67
3.2.2.2. Inclusivism: Many Ways to Salvation – One Norm	68
3.2.2.3. Pluralistic Inclusivism	68
3.3. Leslie Newbigin’s “The Gospel as Public Truth” in a Religiously Plural Context	69
3.3.1. Religious Pluralism	70
3.3.2. Dialogue	73
3.3.3. ‘Risk – taking’ Dialogue	76
Concluding Remarks	80
Conclusion	83
4.1. Critical Appraisal	83
4.2. Search for a Relevant Method of ‘Gospelizing’ in the Religiously Plural Context of India	91
Bibliography	97
Appendix I	107
Appendix II	109
Index	111