Contents

Foreword xiii
Acknowledgement xv
Abbreviation xvii

Chapter 1: Introduction 1
1.1. Statement of Research Problem 1
1.2. Elaboration of Research Problem 2
1.3. Rationale of Research and Its Significance 4
1.4. Defining key 'Terms' 5
1.4.1. Re-culturation 5
1.4.2. Saṁskāra 6
1.4.3. Samaj Dharma 6
1.4.4. 'Space and Place' Model 7
1.4.5. Subaltern 7
1.5. Research Method 8
1.6. Scope and Limitation 8
1.7. Previous Research 8
1.8. Structure of the Book 9

Chapter 2: Formative Background and Context of Research 11
Introduction 11
2.1. Locating Cultural Debate: European Homogeneity and Indian Heterogeneity 12
2.1.1. The Characteristics of Indianness: The Culture of Practical Plurality 16
2.1.2. Cultural Arguments of India in the Context of Research 16
2.1.3. Analysis of Survey on Plural Culture of India 17
2.2. Defining India 18
2.2.1. The Name 'India': What does it stand for? 18

2.2.2. Indianness: Analysis to Explain the Pluralistic Framework 20
2.2.3. What is Indianness? 22
2.2.4. Indianness and Hinduness: Are They Same? 23
2.2.5. Indianness from the Multi-dimensional Ethnography 25
2.2.5.1. Aryan or Vedic Culture 25
2.2.5.2. Dravidian Culture 26
2.2.5.3. Dalit Culture 27
2.2.5.4. Tribal (Adivasi) Culture 28
2.2.5.5. Anglo-Indian Culture 29
2.2.5.6. Contemporary Indian Culture 29
2.3. Euro-Western Mission Model (EWMM) and Subalternity of NIC 31
2.3.1. Analysis of History of the Indian Church: Cultural Conflict Assessment 31
2.3.1.1. St. Thomas Tradition 32
2.3.1.2. Roman Catholic Mission 33
2.3.1.3. Protestant Missions 37
2.3.2. Cultural Narrative and Christian Mission in India: Problems & Prospects 39
2.3.2.1. EWMM and Some Indian Christian Thoughts 40
2.3.2.2. EWMM and Indigenous Movements 43
2.3.2.3. Insider Movement 45
2.3.2.4. Ashram Movement 45
2.3.2.5. Tribes and Indigenization 46
2.3.2.6. Challenges of Indigenization 46
2.4. First Generation Christian (FGC): Some Case Studies to Analyze Contemporary Context 47
2.4.1. Case Study No. I 47
2.4.2. Case Study No. II 48
2.4.3. Case Study No. III 49
2.5. Re-culturation and the Church in India: The Challenges and Possibilities 50
2.6. Issue of Subalternity 51
Conclusion 52
Open Question for Further Debate 53

Chapter 3: The Methodological Consideration 55
Introduction 55
3.1. Context and Reasoning for Postcolonial Subaltern Methodological 56

3.2. Background Studies of Contextual Reasoning and Subalternity 57
3.3. Postcolonial Theory and the Subaltern Methodology 59
3.3.1. Definition and Interpretation of Term 'Subaltern' 61
3.4. Postcolonial Theory and Its Interpretations in the Context to NIC 63
3.5. History of Postcolonialism as a Methodological Approach 65
3.6. 'Space & Place' Model and Postcolonial Reconstruction 66
3.6.1. Samaj Dharma (SD) and Its Relation to 'Space and Place' Model 67
3.6.2. Ambivalence Aspects of Samaj Dharma as Christian Life Reality 68
3.6.2.1. Social Settlement Issue 68
3.6.2.2. Psychological Isolation Issue 69
3.6.2.3. Common Inheritance Issue 69
3.6.2.4. Religious Consciousness Issue 69
3.6.2.5. Mission and Conversion Issue 69
Conclusion 70

Chapter 4: An Introduction of the Law (Dharma) of Manu and the Law (Dharma) of Moses and the Selective Saṃskāric (Sacramental) Praxis for Re-culturation 73
Introduction 73
4.1. Defining Law and Dharma: Analyzing Category 74
4.1.1. Defining Modern Law 75
4.1.2. Defining 'Law' and 'Dharma' 76
4.1.2.1. Dharma in Astika Tradition 76
4.1.2.2. Dharma (Dhamma) in Nastika Tradition 78
4.1.2.3. Defining Law (Dharma) in Manusmṛti 78
4.1.2.4. Modern Interpretation of Dharma in India 81
4.1.2.5. Law, Colonial Construction and Modern India 82
4.2. Significance of Manusmṛti and Torah 82
4.2.1. Manusmṛti and Its Place in Indian Culture 84
4.2.1.1. Manusmṛti and Samaj Dharma 87
4.2.1.2. Manusmṛti as a Possible Model of Re-culturation?: A Search 87
4.2.1.3. Counter-Narrative to Manusmṛti 88
4.2.2. The Law (Dharma) of Moses: May It Provide a Model for NIC? 89
4.2.2.1. Law of Moses and Christianity 89
4.2.2.2. Challenges to Investigate the Law of Moses 90

4.2.2.3. Law in Torahal Period 91
4.2.2.4. Law of Moses and Formative Factor of Hebrew Culture 91
4.2.3. Trialogue: A Model of Re-culturation and Credibility of Torah in Christian Life 92
4.3. Saṁskāras and Sacraments 97
4.3.1. Definition of Saṁskāras and Sacraments 97
4.3.2. Meaning of Saṁskāra 98
4.3.2.1. Etymology 99
4.3.3. Purpose of Saṁskāras 100
4.3.4. Saṁskāras in Indian Scriptures 100
4.3.4.1. Vedas 102
4.3.4.2. Smṛti Literatures 102
4.3.4.3. Saṁskāras in Manusmṛti 104
4.3.4.4.. Socio-cultural Importance 105
4.3.4.5. Spiritual Significance 106
4.4. Christianity and Sacraments 106
4.4.1. Torah and Sacraments 107
4.4.2. New Testament and Sacraments 107
4.4.3. Sacraments in History of Church 108
4.4.4. Sacraments in Protestant Tradition 109
4.5. Background and Reason for Sacramental Reconstruction 112
4.5.1. Importance of Sacraments in Christian Church in India 113
4.5.2. Some Contemporary Indian Trends 114
Conclusion 115
Open Question for Further Debate 116

Chapter 5: Nāmakaraṇa Saṁskāra: Re-reading of Christian Naming Historiography in India: A Postcolonial Analysis 117

Introduction 117
5.1. Rationale and Importance of Nāmakaraṇa Saṁskāra 119
5.1.1. Naming Tradition and its Cultural Importance 119
5.1.1.1. Traditional Name in India: Family, Caste and Social Mobility 120
5.1.1.2. Composition of Name: Morphology and Semantic in North India 123
5.1.1.3. Name and Regional Cultural Identity 124
5.1.1.4. Name in Contemporary India 125

5.1.1.5. Importance of Name in Indian Society 126
5.1.1.6. Naming System 126
5.2. Name, Colonial Mission and Subalternity 127
5.2.1. Colonial Mission and Universalism Doctrine 127
5.2.2. Caste and Mission Policy; A Subaltern Reading 129
5.2.2.1. Priest's Name and Proselytization 129
5.2.2.2. Egalitarian Logic: Contesting 130
5.3. Naming Tradition: In Indian and in Hebrew Tradition 131
5.3.1. The Origin 131
5.3.2. The Vedic Period 131
5.3.3. The Composition of the Name 132
5.3.4. Naming in Torah 133
5.3.4.1. Biblical Period 133
5.3.4.2. Cultural Diversity of Naming System in Torah 134
5.3.4.3. Talmudic Period 137
5.4. Name and its Implication: A Cultural Analysis and Challenges in India 138
5.4.1. Naming Trends among Indian Christians 140
5.4.1.1. South India Specially Kerala Christian 140
5.4.1.2. Northern Regional Name and Cultural Construction-Re-Construction 141
5.4.1.3. Impute of a Khristabhakta (Believer of Christ) 143
5.5. Caste and Mission Interpretation 144
5.5.1. EW Name and the Role of Caste 145
5.5.2. Tribal Name, Identity, and Cultural Questions 146
5.5.3. Post-Colonial Naming Trends and Freedom of Religious Expression 147
5.5.3.1. Case Study No. I of Hindu Orphan 148
5.5.3.2. Case Study No. II of Hindu Convert 148
5.5.3.3. Case Study No. III of Hindu Convert 149
5.5.3.4. Case Study No. IV of Muslim Convert 150
5.6. Church of North India 151
5.7. Egalitarianism Logic and Reality of Caste-Based Christianity in India 152
5.8. Re-construction of EWM Tradition: A Postcolonial Cultural Quest 153
5.8.1. Theology of Mission: A Postcolonial Interpretation to Name Giving Culture of EWM 153

5.8.2. Globalization Logic of the West 156
5.8.3. Cultural Questions 156
5.8.3.1. Social Question and Re-culturation 156
5.8.3.2. Problems and Perspectives 157
Conclusion 158
Open Question for Further Debate 159

Chapter 6: Saṁskāra of Purification & Conversion Issue: Encountering Jesus 'With' and 'Without' Baptism: An Indian Response 161

Introduction 161
6.1. Locating Debate 163
6.2. Baptism-Conversion in Biblical Tradition 164
6.2.1. Baptism-Conversion and Its Root in Torah 164
6.2.2. Baptism in the New Testament and Early Church 165
6.2.3. Protestantism and De-centralization of Baptism Tradition 167
6.3. Baptism-Conversion in Indian Context: Importance, Critic, and Challenges 168
6.4. Conversion: Indian Theological Response and De-construction Attempt 170
6.4.1. Earlier Writings 171
6.4.2. Contemporary Writings 172
6.4.2.1. Kalagara Subba Rao 172
6.4.2.2. M.M. Thomas 173
6.4.2.3. Some Other Arguments 173
6.4.3. Sociological Aspects of Baptism and Conversion: An Evaluation 175
6.4.3.1. Conversion and Cultural Issue among High Caste 176
6.4.3.2. Conversion and Tribal Culture Issue 178
6.4.3.3. Challenges of Obligatory Baptism Rite in Indian Context 179
6.4.4. Baptism-Conversion in Contemporary Mission Movements 180
6.4.4.1. Yeshu Darbar (Royal Court of Jesus) 180
6.4.4.2. Unbaptized Christian: The Challenge before Indian Church? 181
6.4.5. Secular Thinking on Conversion in India 182
6.4.6. Legal View of Conversion 184
6.5. Baptism-Conversion: Case Study 184
6.5.1. Case Study No. I of Researcher Himself 184

6.5.2. Case Study No. II of an Old Woman 185
6.5.3. Key Concerns 185
6.6. Baptism a Must for Discipleship? An Indian Open Question 185
6.6.1. Researcher's Personal Experience 186
6.6.2. Yeshu Darbar 186
6.6.3. A Response of a Kristabhakta: 'I Follow Christ outside Church' - A Testimony 187
6.7. Baptism and Role of Faith 190
6.7.1. Critic to Baptism 190
6.7.2. Re-construction of NIC Culture 190
6.8. Reconstruction of Baptism Rite: Encounter to Manusmṛti and Torah 192
6.8.1. Mode of Prāyaścitta and Its Relation with Theory of Karma 193
6.8.2. Practical Approach to Prāyaścitta 195
6.8.3. Purification Rite in Torah 197
6.9. Postcolonial Response 197
6.9.1. Theological Dimensions 200
Conclusion 201
Open Question for Further Debate 202

Chapter 7: Visible Relation, Social Dimension of Re-cultured Christianity in Northern India and Post-colonialism Subaltern Quest 203

Introduction 203
7.1. Public Festival and the Postcolonial Reconstruction 204
7.1.1. Social Dimension of Indian Festival 204
7.1.2. Festival and Public Hospitality Food 205
7.1.3. Partaking in Festival 206
7.2.1. Denominational Observation and Religious Superiority: Obstacle 206
7.2.1.1. Harvest No 1: Christmas Cake 207
7.2.1.2. Harvest No. 2: Public Merry-Making 207
7.2.1.3. Harvest No 4: Good Friday Tears 207
7.2.2. International Missionary Conference 208
7.2.3. Inter-denominational Official Approach in Postcolonial India 209
7.2.4. Artificial Unity: A Dharmic Hypocrisy 209
7.3. Space and Place Model and Some Examples 209

7.3.1. Christ-Centered Fellowship: A Possibility? 210
7.3.2. Yeshu Darbar Movement 211
7.4. Postcolonial Subaltern Christian Quest and Indian-ness: Final Assessment 212
7.4.1. Cultural Reconstruction and Subaltern Quest: Answer of NIC (Survey) 212
7.4.2. Nāmakaraṇa Saṁskāra and Postcolonial Reconstruction 213
7.4.2.1. Reply of Kristabhakta (Believer outside the Institutional Church) 214
7.4.3. Conversion-Baptism Issue: What next for NIC? 215
7.4.3.1. The response of Kristabhakta on Conversion-Baptism Issue: An Assessment 216
7.5. Reconstruction of Culture as New Model of Subaltern NIC in the context of postcolonial India: Final Words of Researcher 220
Conclusion 222

Final Conclusion 225
Bibliography 229