

Contents

Acknowledgement	xi
Foreword	xiii
Glossary	xvii
Introduction	xix
Chapter 1: Historical-Cultural Context and Theological Thoughts of C.S. Song towards Theology of Cultures	1
1.1. Life and Theological Background of C.S. Song	1
1.2. Formative Factors of C.S. Song	2
1.3. Cultural Context of C.S. Song	3
1.3.1. Culture and Self-Identity	5
1.4. Brief Discussion on Song's Theological Methodology	6
1.5. Moving Towards his Theology of Cultures	9
1.5.1. An Attempt to Formulate Theology of Incarnation	9
1.5.2. Contextualization of Theology in Asian Terms	11
1.5.3. Theological Transposition	12
1.5.4. Creation and Universal Mission of God to all Nations	16
1.6. Evaluation of Song's Theological Thoughts	18
1.7. Conclusion	20

Chapter 2: C.S. Song's Theology of Cultures in Asian Context	23
2.1. Introduction	23
2.2. Different Definitions and Explanations of Culture	24
2.3. Song's Understanding of Cultures in Relation to Christian Theology	25
2.3.1. Intrinsic Relations between Cultures and Christian Theology	26
2.3.2. Starting with Indigenous Popular Culture	27
2.3.3. Elite Culture with Creative Imagination	29
2.3.4. Indigenous Story as Source for Indigenous Christian Theology	31
2.4. Theological Understanding of Cultures	32
2.4.1. In Search of Theological Meaning in Asian Cultures	32
2.4.2. Culture as a Complex Whole of Human Life	33
2.4.3. Culture and God's Creative Dynamics	34
2.4.4. Gospel Incarnates in Cultures	36
2.4.5. Theological Semantics of Culture	38
2.4.6. The Culture of God's Reign	40
2.4.7. Culture of Empowerment	41
2.4.8. Culture of Protest	42
2.5. Evaluation of Song's Theology of Cultures	43
2.6. Conclusion	45
Chapter 3: Theologizing Asian Resources: Story Theology	47
3.1. Introduction	47
3.2. Doing Theology with Asian Resources	47
3.2.1. Theology with Asian Folk Literature	48
3.2.2. Theology with History as People's Movement	50
3.2.3. Theology with Asian Religions	51
3.2.4. Theology with Symbols and Images	52
3.3. Story Theology	53
3.3.1. Theological-Biblical Basis of Story Theology and Its Significance	54

3.4. Asian Stories and Biblical Stories in Reciprocation	60
3.5. Evaluation of Song's Story Theology	65
3.6. Conclusion	67
Chapter 4: The Kuki Socio-Religious-Cultural Context:	69
An Overview
4.1. Introduction	69
4.2. A Brief History of the Kukis, its Origin, Migration and Settlement	70
4.2.1. Origin and Migration	70
4.2.2. Settlement	71
4.2.3. Theological Significance of the Kuki History	73
4.3. Impact of Western Christianity on Kuki Tribal Religious and Cultural Traditions	76
4.4. Prevailing Social and Cultural Ethics	77
4.4.1. Khankho (way of life)	80
4.4.2. Theological Significance of Khankho	85
4.5. Communitarian Value System of the Kuki People	86
4.5.1. Lom/Lawm as the Kuki Youth Organizational Set-Up	86
4.5.2. Social Institution of Som/Sawm (village-dormitory)	88
4.5.3. Theological Significance of Lom, Som/Zawlbuk	89
4.6. The Tribal Philosophical Foundation	91
4.6.1. The Land and Its People	91
4.6.2. The Religious Concepts of the Kukis	93
4.6.3. Theological Significance of Land	96
4.6.4. Myth as Theological Foundation	99
4.7. A Shift from Tradition to Modernity	103
4.8. Feminist Critique on Land/Creation	105
4.9. Conclusion	107
Chapter 5: A Theological Appraisal on the Kuki Culture from C.S. Song's Theology of Cultures	109
5.1. Introduction	109

5.2. Theological Significance of Mythical Stories	110
5.2.1. Tale of Benglam	110
5.2.2. Tale of Miss Khupting and Mr. Ngambom	113
5.3. Theology of Cultures in Dialogue	120
5.3.1. Tribal Spirituality and Worldview	121
5.3.2. Tribal Spirituality and Traditional Theology	122
5.3.3. Communitarian Value System	125
5.3.4. Religious Symbols and Images	127
5.3.5. Khankho and Gospel	129
5.4. Liberative and Negative Elements of Kuki Culture	130
5.4.1. Liberative Elements	130
5.4.2. Negative Aspect	131
5.5. Critical Evaluation of Theology of Cultures	132
5.6. Conclusion	137
 Conclusion	 139